

Swimming Advisory Due To Wet Weather

Bacteria levels tend to rise after rainfall as runoff drains into a water body, carrying bacteria from surrounding areas. Studies have shown that rainfall is one of the major factors affecting beach water quality at this beach.

People with underlying medical conditions, the young, and the elderly are more likely to get sick if contaminated beach water is swallowed.

Beaches with high E. coli bacteria levels have been posted at the beach. We will continue to monitor.

Green Lake County Public Health Department:

920-294-4070